SUPPORTING THOSE WHO SERVE

As military employees depart their civilian life for training or deployment, there are often concerns connected to the impending leave process, transition to or from the work environment, and family. Comcast NBCUniversal is pleased to announce new enhancements to the company's military leave policies to help ease this transition for our military employees and their families. Some of the enhancements include:

- Granting up to 15 days of annual military leave with full pay to support annual training obligations of drilling reservists and National Guard members,
- Increasing military leave supplemental pay to three years for employees on active duty,
- Providing the option of staying on Comcast NBCUniversal health and welfare plans during deployment, and
- Providing certain financial and job transfer assistance to an employee whose spouse or domestic partner is being called, reassigned, or transferred to active military duty in a different geographic area.
